The Meeting House News

REVeries

Dear Friends,

I could have used this column to beseech each and every one of you to participate generously in this year's Annual Appeal, and to thank all of you who have. It is a tight year. You will hear soon of some of the necessary reductions in expenses we have needed to make just to hold even this year (see the Budget Status Report insert included with this Meeting House News). So your participation on the income side matters more than ever.

But I write instead of staff and decision making and some changes that many of you may not have noticed. Several years ago, the Standing Committee challenged Jenny and me to hire a strong business manager and to consider forming an Executive Team consisting of the three of us, moving from a more "corporate" model of having a Head of Staff (me) to a less hierarchical model of a team, with the Business Manager taking on operational matters and leaving Jenny and me to focus on our ministry to you. Once we hired Melissa Gallo in early 2008, we began working toward this goal and have now settled into this new model.

The Executive Team meets regularly and often, each of us making decisions in our own areas of expertise but bringing greater policy and strategic questions back to the team. We work closely with the Standing Committee to shape our dreams for First Parish out over the next several years and we report to them on our progress. We are sharing the responsibilities of leading this large and important institution. It is a model for now, recognizing that the three of us have a certain chemistry and combination of talents that make this model work.

At the latest Standing Committee meeting, we were thanked for the work we do together, which we truly appreciated, and I wanted you to know about it. Any of us welcome your comments and questions.

From the Intern Minister

Dear Friends,

One of the questions I am asked most often at First Parish is, "What will you do after this internship?" Well, thanks for asking!

After I say good-bye to First Parish at our Annual Meeting in June, I'll spend the rest of the summer preparing to see the Ministerial Fellowship Committee in September. I'll send them a packet containing letters, transcripts, essays and information about who I am and what has gone into my ministerial formation over the last five years. They will hear me preach, ask me lots and lots of questions, and then . . . (hopefully!) they will agree to grant me fellowship as a UU minister.

If they do, the next steps kind of happen all at once: I'll be finishing up my degree (I have a few classes left), seeking ordination, and "going into search." This last part is how ministers and churches find each other. It's a little like online dating: you post a profile, click on the other party's information, and hope for a chance to meet in person (for an interview).

So I don't know where my first ministry position will be. Perhaps here in New England. Maybe back home in the Pacific Northwest. Or maybe the right call will be somewhere I never imagined.

Wherever it is, First Parish will be with me in spirit. I have grown very fond of this wonderful congregation, and the norms and practices I learned this year will continue to shape my ministry. You have let me into your lives with patience and love, giving me many opportunities to learn and grow. The rippling effects of this time at First Parish will last throughout my ministry.

Thank you so much!

Blessings,

— Angela Herrera

GREETINGS FROM LISSA

From First Parish member Lissa Gundlach, whom we as a congregation sponsor on her path to the Unitarian Universalist ministry:

It is with warmest wishes that I send my greetings! You may remember me from my high school years at First Parish — active in youth group, singing in musicals, showing my artwork in the Parish Hall. My experience at First Parish was transformational, inspiring me to explore the meaning of spirituality and faith for myself and the larger world. I graduated in 2002 from Vassar College with a bachelor's degree in Religious Studies and a call to ministry, nurtured by the generosity and patience of my UU mentors at First Parish.

In the fall of 2005, I answered my call to ministry and began theological studies at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, where I will graduate in May 2009. I am a candidate for the Unitarian Universalist ministry, and in August I will begin a full-time parish internship at Unity Church Unitarian Universalist in St. Paul, Minnesota, under the supervision of the Reverends Janne and Rob Eller-Isaacs. I am looking forward to this year of learning and growth.

Walking the path toward UU ministry, I have always felt supported by my home church. It is here I learned how to "Go out into the world," guided by my UU faith and values to work for social change. First Parish in Concord taught me how to believe — in myself, the Unitarian Universalist tradition, and the church as a community of worship, love and justice. It is with much gratitude that I take my next steps, knowing that we walk together in faith.

2009 SEDER A GREAT SUCCESS

Our 17th First Parish seder was a wonderful experience for all. Dana Snyder-Grant once again advised our seder leader, who this year was our Intern Minister, Angela Herrera. Angela did a great job as did our cooks, servers and clean-up volunteers. The seder is always a wonderful way for us to get better acquainted with each other and 2009 was no exception. Thank you all for making the evening such a success. See you in 2010! — Rhoda Miller

Pastoral Care News

At the recent Alzheimer's workshop, Rev. Jade Angelica cited two quotes about hope. The first quote was from Martin Luther, "Even if I knew the world would end tomorrow, I would still plant an apple tree today." The second was by Vaclav Havel, "Hope is not believing you can change things; hope is believing you can make a difference."

When a loved one has Alzheimer's, it often seems like the end of the world, but we can make a difference by entering his or her reality. Because of the on-going changes in the brain, the Alzheimer's brain interprets what is being seen or experienced differently from how you and I see or experience the same thing. The paradox is, if we insist on our reality as truth, the loved one with Alzheimer's will likely stonewall, become belligerent, and be very upset. We can make a positive difference by being curious about what they see, hear or are experiencing. Our responses can honor their experience and also offer a sense of safety.

Being curious about another person's perspective is a good way to affirm and promote the inherent dignity of all individuals, not just those with Alzheimer's. When we truly listen to another with curiosity, he or she is more likely to listen to us. This transition of returned curiosity does not happen with a loved one with Alzheimer's; instead the bonus is a loved one who feels safe and understood. This is not easy work. It requires that we remain open while we grieve the daily mental and physical diminishment of our loved one. The Alzheimer's Association (800-272-3900) is a wonderful resource for families looking for education and support groups, as is the Concord Council on Aging. Olivia Ames Hoblitzelle, author of The Majesty of Your Loving: A Couple's Journey through Alzheimer's, addresses how to have an open heart and mind in the midst of grief.

A special thanks to the RE staff and children who decorated paper bags to deliver meals to parishioners by Caring Connection. The children also decorated note cards. Starting in September, Pastoral Care will have a table in the Parish Hall so you can write "Thinking of you" or "Congratulations" notes to a parishioner who was mentioned that day prior to silent meditation. In this way we all have the opportunity to show our care, concern and joy for one another.

In faith,

—Margie King Saphier

Money Matters

2009 ANNUAL APPEAL UPDATE — GIVE TO YOUR VALUES

By the time you read this, the "official" portion of the 2009 Annual Appeal will be over, and the budgeting process for our 2009-2010 fiscal year will have begun. Many thanks to those of you who have already pledged. As of today (April 17), we are at nearly 70% of our target pledge goal. As you may recall from our earlier communications, this year's pledge target of $924,000 represents a reduction of our current year's budget by nearly 12%, based on our realization of the challenging financial times that all of us are facing. Even so, we still have a long way to go in order to meet this goal, as only slightly more than half of our church members have pledged thus far. In any fundraising campaign, the last 20% is always the most difficult, so the Annual Appeal team is working hard to ensure that we meet this pledge goal in a timely manner.

There is a certain sense of urgency in achieving this goal. For example, reaching only 90% of the $924,000 target would represent a reduction of $92,000 in our budget for next year. What many members of First Parish don't realize is that because so many of our costs are fixed, a shortfall of this magnitude would necessarily result in a significant reduction in existing programs offered by First Parish. And late pledges will negatively impact the budgeting process for next year, as the Executive Team ( Gary Smith, Jenny Rankin and Melissa Gallo ) needs to plan the church's expenditures based on committed pledges at the time that they develop the budget, which is well in advance of the July 1 start of the next fiscal year.

So while we acknowledge that all of us are facing difficult times ahead, we ask that those members of First Parish who have not yet pledged to reflect on what they value about First Parish, and to make a commitment to pledge this week. If there is significant economic uncertainty in your future, then pledge an amount with which you feel comfortable. You can always choose to increase your pledge later if there is an improvement in your personal situation. If you can't find your pledge form, call First Parish and leave a message with the amount that you will be pledging. (We're flexible.) But please pledge something, as it demonstrates your commitment to a community of caring friends and staff who are there, and will continue to be there, when you need them.

Give to Your Values — Community, Generosity, Hope. The theme of our 2009 Annual Appeal sums up what being a part of First Parish represents to us. Please help us maintain the programs, the people, and the place that we hold dear by making a pledge as soon as possible if you have not already done so. —George Gagliardi and Caroline McCloy, 2009 Annual Appeal Cochairs

FROM THE COLLECTOR

If you are currently paying your pledge by automatic deduction from your bank account, and have chosen another method for the new year, please remember that we can't discontinue or change your deduction without a signed form from you. The deductions as they are now would continue past June. The forms are available on the church website or in the office. Thank you!

Wright Tavern Center

Wright Tavern was bursting with activity in March and April, and the months have flown by. The big spring push is almost over, and planning for the fall semester is under way.

The deadline for course proposals is May 31. If you are thinking of offering a course in the fall, please be in touch with me right away to be included in the catalog. We welcome and encourage you, as members of First Parish, to think about enriching our community by contributing your time and talent to Wright Tavern programming.

MAY HIGHLIGHTS: We have several surprise additions to our calendar this spring. Two wonderful programs with gifted teachers have been included as space has opened up to accommodate them. First, Sifu Andrea Sheffield of Wah Lum dancing dragon fame brings her Chi Kung and T'ai Chi for Health to First Parish for the first time. The course starts today — Wednesday, April 29 — and can be joined in progress or on a drop-in basis.

Second, we are pleased to welcome Brugh Joy back to First Parish for a three-day retreat from May 14–17: The Art of Heart Centering in the Day-to-Day Experience of Life.

SUCCESSSES: Even though March is past, we must acknowledge Rev. Carl Scovel's masterful Lenten teaching, Parables: Christian Kÿans, his "best course yet." Eight fortunate people were enriched by Angela Herrera's five-week Spiritual Autobiography course. The Healing Power of "YES" workshop taught improvisational theater techniques as remarkably effective tools for being present for people with Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia. Merill Comeau, whose fabric creation graced the First Parish pulpit on Easter morning, had a full house for her four week course Making Art out of Life. Finally, Rich and Antra Borofsky's one-day version of their popular Intimacy as a Spiritual Path workshop was a deeply satisfying experience for all who attended.

COMING ATTRACTIONS: The River Blessing Ceremony at Egg Rock is part of the 8th annual RiverFest Celebration. Join me, Caroline McCloy and others at 8:00 a.m. on Saturday, June 13, for this simple but profound early morning ceremony, a sweet way to start the day before our final Sunday worship service. Come, one and all!

Visit The Wright Tavern Center website at www.wrighttavern.org for the latest news and events, in-depth descriptions of courses and presenter bios. ## MUSings

"Could a Mass celebrate the whole earth as a sacred place?"

This question was the creative genesis of the Missa Gaia, or Earth Mass. In 1980, while serving with the Paul Winter Consort as artists in residence at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City, jazz saxophonist Paul Winter was challenged by the dean of the cathedral to "create twentieth century music for the Mass."

Unfamiliar with the Mass liturgy and ritual, Winter set about learning the history of the Mass. He discovered that the Mass has been the cradle of western art music for most of a millennium. He also learned that the themes of many Masses from the Middle Ages and Renaissance were drawn from folk and popular tunes.

What if the themes for an Earth Mass could come from the songs of nature? What if the Kyrie — a prayer for mercy — was based on the ethereal howl of the tundra wolf, an animal traditionally feared and reviled by humans?

What if the mysterious and joyous song of the humpback whale, "a symbol of the Great Mother," provided the melody of the Sanctus? "Holy is the Lord God of Hosts. Heaven and Earth are full of your glory. Hosanna in the highest!"

What if the Agnus Dei, the "lamb of God," was a harp seal pup, whose plaintive voice would mingle with that of human beings in an ancient prayer for reconciliation and peace?

Winter decided to dedicate this Earth Mass to St. Francis, the patron saint of animals and the environment; and he composed, with Jim Scott, the wonderful Canticle of Brother Sun, based on the saint's famous prayer to begin and end the Mass.

The title Missa Gaia combines the Latin name for the Mass (missa) and the Greek goddess of the earth, Gaia. Mixing the sacred and the scientific, it evokes the "Gaia Hypothesis: that the entire range of living matter on earth ... could be regarded as constituting a single living entity ... endowed with faculties and power far beyond its constituent parts."

The Missa Gaia is an extraordinary liturgical and musical creation combining animal and human voices, Gregorian chant, ancient prayers, Latin rhythms and the ethereal song of the soprano saxophone in a synergistic worship experience. The First Parish Choir and Children's Choirs, along with guests musicians — including the wolf, the whale and the seal — look forward to sharing it with you on Sunday morning, May 3, at both services. Come prepared to join in "grateful hymns of praise."

Blessings,

— Beth Norton

Social Action Community News and Events

In place of my monthly column I would like to present a report from our SAC cochair Claudia Nimar, on the work of a new SAC Grant recipient. Some of you may remember that Robin Van Loon's winter visit with our youth group made an incredible impression, showing them what a young First Parishioner can do to change the world.

The SAC Grants committee selected Camino Verde's Basic Agroforestry: Baltimori Project/Peru as a 2009 grant recipient. The project's focus is the installation of agroforestry systems (sustainable, tree-based agricultural plots) on the farmlands of all willing participants within the rural community of Baltimori, in the buffer zone of the Tambopata National Reserve. Our SAC Grant funded the purchase and delivery of 700 tree saplings, benefiting 10 farmers in the first round of planting, completed in early February. The project's aims include a second year of expansion, in which each farmer, having received 70 trees each in the first year, will be offered the opportunity to reforest further territory. For information on Camino Verde, go to www.Caminoverdeperu.org.

Please contact me with causes and concerns.

UUSC CONTINUES WORK IN SUDAN

The UUSC humanitarian efforts in Sudan continue despite recent setbacks. In a major victory for antigencide activists, TIAA-CREF announced it will pressure portfolio companies to help end the genocide in the Darfur region, and it will divest from companies

UPCOMING SERVICE TRIP CELEBRATIONS

Celebrate with our service trip participants during May. On May 10, the El Salvador group will update us on their work at Centro Arte Para La Paz (Art Center for Peace) run by Sister Peggy O'Neill. Sister Peggy has made it her mission to bring a culture of peace to the war-torn people of El Salvador. On June 7, the New Orleans group will celebrate with our congregation. Their work in New Orleans reminds us of how much is yet to be done to help residents return to their homes and neighborhoods.

Going Deeper Spiritually

Monthly Thematic and Theological Queries for the People of First Parish in Concord

SERIES IX, 2008-2009

Note: Following the lead of All Souls Unitarian in Tulsa, Unity Church in St. Paul, and the First Parish in Weston, we continue a series of reflections, each focusing on a particular theological concept. Worship during the month will include at least one Sunday where this concept is explored. We hope the suggested topic for the month will find its way into our small group gatherings and into our conversations, even at home.

May 2009: VISION — There are times in our lives when we pick up our heads, look far out into the future, and have a vision of who we want to become, where we want to head.

There are other times when we go day to day, our eyes focused on the ground, on the road in front of us. We attend to the day-to-day, taking care of children, parents, work, bills, whatever needs our attention.

We chose “vision” as our theme this month to encourage us all to pick our eyes up from the day-to-day, the immediate, the urgent — and gaze, if only for a moment, toward the far horizon. It is easy to get focused on the short term and lose sight of the long view.

So what are some “vision questions” we might ask? I think of questions Gary raised in his Easter sermon. What matters most in your life? Who do you want to become? As Margaret Fuller put it long ago: “What were we born to do? How are we going to do it?” These are vision questions. These are questions that take us away from the details and lift us up to the larger horizon.

The following words by Dana McLean Greeley seem right on point when it comes to vision.

“We need vision and courage and faith in the future,” Dana wrote. “Even if our charts are wrong, at times we have to trust them, and not stay at home in the old world. The new world waits to be discovered and to be realized by us. Impatience and even radicalism fare better than complacency and indifference, and bravery are better than fear. ...I would like to have us train our children to climb mountains and to sail the open seas, but likewise to take risks for democracy and for brotherhood and for peace. And if we would train them, we must be examples ourselves. Something of the spirit that was in Columbus should be in us. We need new ideas and bold action in science and in social ethics and in the church and in life.”

From “Exploration and Discovery,” a sermon given on Columbus Day eve October 11, 1970, quoted in Forward Through the Ages, the Writings of Dana McLean Greeley, 1970-1986, p. 104)

Senior Youth News

Every year I find May to be a crazy roller-coaster of a month. Emotionally we are getting ready to say good-bye to our seniors and hello to the incoming freshmen. Calendars are packed with proms, performances, sports and schoolwork. It is my hope that Youth Group does not feel like another thing on the calendar, but a place for renewal, peace and connections.

It’s a busy May calendar for youth:

- May 3: Wink – a wild and crazy game
- May 10: YRUU alum Jessye Weinstein and Resistance Movements
- May 16-17: Leadership Retreat to Boston (all YAC members and youth interested in leadership invited)
- May 17: 11:00 a.m. Senior Recognition Service
- May 17: T’ai Chi
- May 24: No YRUU – Memorial Day Weekend – Ferry Beach
- May 31: Ultimate Frisbee Championship Game vs. Tri-Con

Our current YAC (Youth Advisory Council) and prospective members will be going on our annual leadership retreat in May. We get to eat on Newbury Street in the Back Bay, and then sleep on the floor of the First Church of Boston on Marlborough Street, while we do some visioning for the upcoming year. Joining YAC is a wonderful way for youth to gain leadership skills while having fun. We have YAC members from each class along with a few amazing adults (Jamie Atkins, Tracey Bird and Winslow Pettingell), who plan our Sunday nights and provide leadership at Youth Group. The success of our Youth Group is directly related to the fact that everything is youth-led.

At the 11:00 o’clock service on May 17, First Parish will recognize our high school seniors. It is a lovely ceremony, where we send the seniors off into the world, but reassure them they will always have a home here at First Parish.

Spring fever has hit us and our moods have lifted. On the other hand, so many of the youth are facing good-byes and major changes. Through the joys and sorrows of life’s journey, I would like the youth to know that First Parish will always give them strong roots and sturdy wings.

SARASA AT FIRST PARISH

On Sunday, May 3, at 7 p.m., the First Parish Music Events Committee will present a concert by the Cambridge-based, nationally acclaimed chamber music ensemble Sarasa. The performance will feature songs of Haydn, Beethoven and Schubert; with William Hite, tenor; Maggie Cole, piano forte; Claire Jolivet, violin; and Tim Merton, cello. ## Reflection and RE News

It has been my deepest joy working with all of your children this year. We have shared many touching and thoughtful moments together in our RE program. I am working so hard to keep our programs healthy and vibrant next year too, but I need your help.

This is my fourth year here, and it is my third year having to reduce our RE budget. If you have made your pledge, as Mark and I have, thank you. If you are still considering your pledge and have questions to ask of RE, please feel free to call me. If you are waiting, please consider that we are also waiting. We are waiting for your pledge of support so we can plan for the financial reality of next year.

When Mark and I made our pledge decision in this year of economic unrest, we asked ourselves what was important to us and the answer was clear — we wanted to do our part in making sure that First Parish is there for you and your children next year. I do hope your family feels the same way about us. It is a covenant we have with each other, a trust, if you will, to ensure First Parish is there for all of our families in times of celebration and in times of hardship.

Thank you all for your continued and steadfast report.

— Pam Howell

EARTH DAY CELEBRATION MAY 2

In RE our children made an Earth Float for the Musketaquid Earth Day Celebration. A special thanks goes out to C.C. King for her work in leading this spiritual experience for our kids. If your child wishes to be part of the release of our First Parish float, please join us at the River Ceremony at 10:00 a.m., Lowell Road Boat Launch in Concord.

Then join in the Earth Day Parade: 10:45 a.m. from Lowell Road Bridge through Concord Center to the Emerson Umbrella Arts and Environment Festival, 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the Emerson Umbrella, 40 Stow Street, Concord.

Free! Bring your family and friends and join in the Call and Response!

SURPRISE VISITOR ON MAY 17

In May, we are thrilled to have Cindy Rivka Marshall back with us as our Surprise Visitor. If you recall, Cindy did a marvelous rendition of Queen Esther last year in the Sanctuary for the message to children. She is a renowned storyteller who uses song, music and theatrics to provide delightful entertainment for our children. On May 17, we will begin in the Sanctuary with a children's message from Ms. Rivka Marshall, and then our K-6th graders will gather in the Parish Hall for more stories and laughter.

SPRING TERM FOR 2ND-6TH GRADERS

On May 3, we will continue to explore the spiritual movement of T'ai Chi with Sifu Andrea Sheffield, from Wah Lum Kung Fu in West Concord. She will be teaching our children about this meditative physical practice.

On May 10, we will be working with Brenda Fingold, First Parish member and holistic health consultant. This class will be closing our year-long theme of honoring our earth. In this class, we will be celebrating both Mother's Day and Earth Day, for Earth is also our mother.

THE GOOD NEWS GARDEN

On a cold morning in February, Susan Ryan asked if we could do some gardening with our First Parish kids over the summer. What a great idea! Sue and I have secured a plot in the Hugh Cargill Community Garden (across from the Concord Court House). We will work with our First Parish kids planting seeds, digging beds, weeding and picking produce in the summer and fall. We will donate our vegetables to Open Table.

Would your children like to be involved? If so, please let Pam know. We will have a sign-up sheet on May 3 at the RE Registration table for families to sign up for a one- or two-week commitment to care for our plot. Exploring the joy of gardening and growing food is one of the ways your child can experience the power of our earth. Exploring the joy of giving to others is one of the ways your child can experience the power of the human spirit — two great aspirations of our Unitarian Universalist sources. I hope your child and family has the time to participate in this simple but powerful ministry this summer. On May 31, we will have a Kids-in-Action Sunday that will focus on our community garden plot.

RE REGISTRATION ON MAY 3, AT 9:00 AND 11:00 A.M.

We have already begun our registration for religious education for next year. We are trying to keep many of the positive elements we have enjoyed so much this year and fold them into a slightly gentler Workshop Rotation model. Instead of five workshops, we will have three. This will allow us to meet as a large group first, in the Chapel, and then divide into three smaller groups for exploring the day's theme in a deeper way. We will not need to separate the role of leader and

Partner Church Committee

The Partner Church Committee is hosting a Dateline Transylvania event on Saturday, May 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall. Join us for a bit of C&D (coffee & dessert) and connect/reconnect with our partner church community in Székelykeresztúr.

In addition to a presentation (in words and photos) about our program and an update on the latest Youth Service Pilgrimage (YSP), we'll have a raffle and an update on the Keresztúr Community House project, along with information about (major and minor) naming rights sponsorships for windows and doors. Please RSVP to ensure that there is C&D for all. Egészségedre!

The list of First Parish attendees for the September 18–20 Community House dedication in Székelykeresztúr is lengthening. So far four are set with another four not quite confirmed. Everyone is invited and we hope you'll come too. It will be an iconic, merry occasion, abounding with music and dance, a time to connect with old friends and new, and an opportunity to tour some of the majestic eastern Carpathian region, with its Unitarian heritage and Hungarian culture. To learn more contact Rodger Mattlage at rmattlage@yahoo.com.

Finally, we are in the process of revamping our Partner Church Google group list. Look for imminent e-mails announcing the changes. If you would like to be on our general mailing list, please send an e-mail to Rodger, again, at rmattlage@yahoo.com. Minden jól! "Best wishes!"

guide with this flexible model, just as we did not need to do so during this transitional year. When choosing your teaching assignment, consider the season and the topic to find the best fit for you.

Our program will continue to be one that uses the Cooperative Teaching Parent model. When you register your child in RE, you also register yourself. We know that you count on us to plan for your child's time in our program. At the same time, we truly count on your commitment to fulfill your teaching obligation as well. If you wish to teach a particular program, please register early. The sooner you register the more likely you will be able to teach your first or second choice. Some programs are already sufficiently staffed for next year.

Don't want to wait until May 3 to register? Then register online this year!

PET FOOD DRIVE A SUCCESS

Thanks to 6th Graders Erika Peterson, Kathryn Shane and Mariko Chang, the food drive for pet food was a big success. On Thursday, April 16, we delivered hundreds of pounds of pet food to Open Table. They were thrilled to have this abundance of food in these difficult times. Without the team effort of these three, this could never have happened.

A THANK-YOU FROM OUR PRESCHOOL RE PROGRAM

Our youngest children in RE (Babies to 4 years) have been using the Parlor as temporary classroom space until our new space is ready next fall. The space was working out quite well, but we lacked the number and variety of toys we enjoyed when we shared the Milldam classroom space last year. Fortunately, several First Parish parents have generously donated a wonderful selection of toys to round out our collection of arts & crafts materials. Tracey Hurd contributed a complete wooden Brio train set, some baby dolls and a collection of tea set items. Jay Copeland offered us a delightful Little Tikes dollhouse with accessories. Gretchen and Paul Nelson gave us a toddler-sized table and chair set. A few other families donated several types of puzzles, and some large plastic trucks. The children have spent recent Sundays blissfully engaged in playing with these new toys. On their behalf, a big heartfelt "thank you" to all of you who have blessed us with your thoughtful donations. — Carol Duane, Young Children's Program Coordinator

TRACING THE TRANSCENDENTALISTS IN ITALY

Living in Concord and worshipping at First Parish means that we are surrounded continually by a remarkable history of truly American philosophers and writers. They are part of the fabric of Unitarian Universalism. Emerson, Thoreau, Fuller, Hawthorne and Alcott, as well as many others in the mid-nineteenth century, struggled to create a uniquely American philosophy. They traveled abroad, saw many amazing cultural icons, and used their travel experience to more fully understand their own culture.

Jenny Rankin inspired us to follow their footsteps, see what they saw, and try to conceive of their lives as they thought, wrote, communicated and returned home. What an amazingly rich experience it was for all of us to be together and participate in this trip — Lillian Anderson, Sara Ballard, Laura and Mel Bernstein, Lillian Braden, Steph Chiha, Doris Goldthwaite, Bob Harper, Kate and Kel Keleher, Rhoda Miller, Mary Morgan, Claudia Nimar, Maura Perkins, Donna Peterson, Kitsy and Terry Rothermel, Dorothy Schecter, Bozena Smith and Darien Smith. We visited Rome and the antiquities, Florence and the Renaissance, and the Tuscan countryside in between, just as the transcendentalists did. Emerson arrived broken in spirit from the death of his first wife, Ellen; Margaret Fuller created a new life for herself, marrying and giving birth to a son while helping to fight for the Italian revolution. They were changed by their experience.

Together we walked, learned, ate, walked, shared, read, talked, walked, drank, heard, saw — and finally understood why we went. Traveling as a First Parish group, whether it is to Transylvania or Italy, in search of a connection to our partner church village or to our heritage as transcendentalists, means that we return transformed because we have done this together as a faith community.

This group of First Parish Transcendentalists have stories to share and some additional work to do to bring the spirit of Emerson, Fuller and their friends back to First Parish. We are in the process of forming an ongoing committee that will serve as a coordinating body for all of the interesting events in the next several years — e.g., the Emerson Forum, Margaret Fuller's Bicentennial, etc. Our first meeting will be on Tuesday, May 19, at 7:30 p.m., and anyone interested in participating should plan to attend. —Lillian Anderson, Steph Chiha, Kate Keleher, Planning Committee

THE EMERSON FORUM QUARTERLY MEETING — MAY 4

The topic will be Harold Bloom's New York Times article on how the "financial panic of 1837 helped shape Ralph Waldo Emerson's vision of America." The Bloom op-ed column, "Out of panic, self-reliance," is in the October 12, 2008, issue of the Times and will be discussed in light of the financial crisis of 2008-2009. The meeting is to be held on Monday, May 4, from 7:00-8:30 p.m. on the Wright Tavern porch. All are welcome; there is no charge.
