REVERIES

I want to thank Jenny, the staff, the Standing Committee, and all who have received Jenny's letter of resignation, for their honest and direct expressions of their feelings. I so appreciate that this is a huge moment of loss, uncertainty and change for Jenny, the staff, and members and friends of First Parish to navigate and integrate.

Any change, especially one of this magnitude, holds uncertainty in it, and human beings do not like uncertainty. Dr. Henry S. Lodge believes human beings are hard-wired, neurologically, to make rapid decisions in response to the discomfort or anxiety of uncertainty. "When there is not hard information, we choose the fastest route to decision — any decision — to end the panic of uncertainty. You can measure this in the lab, and experimental psychologists have shown over and over again that humans will reliably make blatantly bad decisions to end the feeling of uncertainty."

We may all be feeling a wide range of emotions, or discomfort. Those feelings may prompt a wide variety of behaviors: fatigue, judgment, increased effort, decreased effort, or withdrawal. For some, any decision is better than no decision because of the anxiety or panic response to not knowing what to do. That is not what has been or will be the intention of the staff or leadership of First Parish.

Jenny, the Standing Committee, the PIT and FP members and friends have all worked with appreciation this last year. We have attended listening sessions and the Springing Forward retreat, worked on governance, worship and belonging initiatives, practicing relational language and creativity to explore institutional options. We have continued and will continue to choose to sustain relationships, and stay in conversation about what we are experiencing. This may not always be the most comfortable option. This is an opportunity to continue to strengthen relationships, and sustain community. We all need to continue to choose and model how to be in relationship, instead of choosing to be right, as we continue to have courage, hold on to what is good, let go of what has been dear, and begin again in love.

Much, much, metta,

Elaine Peresluha

FPC Beliefs — Theological Complexity

On September 16, we invited those in worship to think about what they believe. We offered a very simple survey of beliefs* to begin our thinking about First Parish beliefs and how to become faithful to them. There are so many more questions, perspectives and beliefs for us to share. Please let Rachel Baker know if you would be interested in an ongoing discussion, gatherings and connections around beliefs. The survey results are below if you are curious. This does not include the show of hands in the service, only those who chose to turn in their surveys.

— Much metta, Elaine

*First Parish Belief Survey

What First Parish members think about the concept of “God” is an important aspect of congregational identity. There is, of course no “right” response, and we celebrate our differences. So please make a thoughtful choice among the oversimplified statements below.

(Circle the one or more that comes closest to your belief.)

1. I believe in an all-powerful God who oversees people's lives.
2. I believe in a loving living God, who sent teachers such as Jesus Christ to establish moral principles.
3. I believe that “God” is simply the Love we feel for our fellow humans, the world and its creatures.
4. I believe there is no way of knowing if “God” exists, so that I now decide ethical questions for myself.
5. I believe that “god” does not exist. We humans must therefore take full responsibility for our actions.

Written responses

- I believe in an all-powerful God who lives and loves through people's lives.
- Number 1, but it isn't that simple.
- Numbers 1 and 2 and other teachers.
- Number 3, and we humans must therefore take full responsibility for our actions.
- Number 3, and the duality and diversity of the Lord and Lady, and we humans must therefore take full responsibility for our actions.
- Number 3 and lots more.
- Number 3, and actually, I still haven't really decided.
- Numbers 3 and 5, and it has lots of energy we can use.
- Numbers 3 and 4, and on some days.
- Numbers 3 and 4. This is the closest, but I think that there may well be a level of sacredness beyond what I can feel, believe or know. And number 4, this is less central to my beliefs.
- Numbers 3 and 4, and I believe that “Chi” is simply a universal life force of energy including compassion... driving our evolution.
- Numbers 4 and 5. Four as is then we humans must take full responsibility for our actions.
- Number 4, but I do believe there is a god.

October 1, 2012

Dear Members and Friends of First Parish:

By now, you will have received in the mail my letter telling you of my decision to resign as Minister, effective December 31, 2012. In an effort to communicate thoroughly, I am including the essence of that message here in the newsletter.

I have loved being your minister. The last fifteen years have been an extraordinary opportunity for me to grow and learn as I have served this large and vibrant congregation. Building a ministry team with Gary, being part of a strong staff, partnering with you to bring exciting projects to fruition: all that and more has made it a ministry I will always treasure. Most of all, I appreciate the personal relationships with you.

I have thought long and hard about this decision. The events of the last two years, coupled with the congregation's growing concern over financial sustainability, have affected me. I pondered what was best for the congregation and for me. With the church's leadership examining (and approving) restructuring, I gained clarity. In these years with you, I have grown and changed and become a senior leader. I look forward to a ministry where I can exercise that leadership in ways that will help me keep growing, learning and contributing.

It will not be easy for us to say goodbye. Fifteen years is a long time, and you have invited me into your lives. The honor of walking that journey with you — in all its joy and sorrow — is beyond telling. But I also have an excitement and curiosity about the next chapter in my life. I look forward to exploring new paths and possibilities. And I look forward to hearing about your new chapter as you call a Senior Minister.

You are a strong community, capable of becoming even more so in the years ahead. You have so many gifts to give the world — as individuals and as a collective — and this beautiful and broken world so needs the blessing of the energy, love and light you can give to it.

I trust in the next months we will have the opportunity to visit in person and say goodbye. I will always cherish you and the ministry we have shared together.

With all good wishes,

Rev. Jenny M. Rankin

Dear Members and Friends of First Parish:

We have received Jenny's letter of resignation as Minister, effective December 31, 2012. With much thought and sadness we have accepted Jenny's decision. We sincerely thank her for her service to First Parish in Concord over the last 15 years.

We understand that this announcement will be an emotional surprise for many First Parishioners. We know many of you will have questions and the need to process this news. We know you'll want to discuss how this change will affect our mission, our church community and the search for a new senior minister. We are committed to listening and responding to all as we help the whole Parish move forward.

As we've already announced, we will reschedule the September listening sessions. The previously-scheduled October sessions (11, 13 and 14) are still scheduled. If we can schedule new sessions before that, we will be in touch.

Above all, we look forward to working with Jenny this fall, as we move into this transition, and honor her time with us.

With respect and appreciation,

Jack Nevison

Chair

Standing Committee, First Parish in Concord

- Numbers 3, 4 and 5, and God is simply the relationship we feel and I believe God may not exist.
- Numbers 4 and half of 5, and I am agnostic: any discussion about whether “god” or “God” exists is futile.
- Numbers 2, 3, 4, and I believe God is a powerful metaphor [illegible] is unknowable... unites us and speaks to our best selves.
- Numbers 2 and 3, and a response more along the lines of the transcendentalists would fit me.
- “The love we feel for our fellow humans, the world and unites creatures is important. We humans must therefore take full responsibility for our actions are important. I believe that God is the total interconnected web of all existence with which we are all one.
- Number 6, and 3 is close, but I believe that there is some connective energy, closest description is the spirit in all things, neither loving nor unloving, not a giver of morality, but a fundamental interconnected “spiritual” energy, without creed but for us at least (humans) an energy that calls on us to be loving and to treat other as we would...”
- I allow for the possibility of some collection of souls of the departed combined like drops in an ocean and exuding goodwill, love to Gaia and humankind.
- Number 2, I believe in a loving God, and teachers such as JC to help us... We humans must therefore take full responsibility for our actions.
- I do not believe in a personal god, but some force beyond our reckoning.
- Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, and kind of and I believe god is the sense of wonder that comes from paying attention to the love we feel for the beauty of the world and magic of its creatures.
- God has no relevance to me.
- Meaningless question. “God” is a word construct. This is a non sequitur.
- I do not believe in the supernatural. To me god(s) is a meaningless concept. And we humans must therefore take full responsibility for our actions.
- My actions and my understanding reflect each of these [five answers] — sometimes at the same time, sometimes not.
- Number 2 is metaphorical. A personal God does not exist literally ... You did not mention the creative power in the cosmos that brought this amazing world into being and continues its creative processes (evolution) today. If given the opportuni-

- ty I would have voted for the power of love and the creative processes already mentioned [in the 5 choices]. A religious naturalist.
- Spirit instead of God. I don’t like the word God.
- I recoil when a minister preaches numbers 1 and 2.
- The notion of God is a man-made concept that is not useful to me.
- It is complicated.
- There are many teachers and many prophets; they articulate moral principles.
- I believe in letting people determine what their beliefs are and not necessarily fitting into any of the above categories.
- None of the above. None of these is really it; 3-5 are close but not right on.
- I believe that God is simply the love we feel for our fellow humans, the world (not creatures).
- Jesus of Nazareth (not Christ) is not the teacher, but the faith statement of a belief that Jesus is with God or is God or something like this!
- ... God is the Love {it is not simple} and I now decide ethical questions for myself based on Love and teachings from #2.
- I believe in a loving, living God who inspired teachers such as JC and all the world’s masters, saints and prophets, known and unknown, to embody and convey moral principles for the betterment of humankind and the planet. Number and an all pervading reality, stripped of the veils of meaning and limited attachment. Ineffable — beyond understanding.
- I find this question to be prejudicial and proposed answers close-ended and even insulting to the theological views of FP members. Asking what we think about “the concept” of God poses that God is a concept. It reflects the ignorance of people who do not understand the language of faith. Secondly, the theological orientation of a UU parish is not a popularity contest. The multiple choice answers are remarkably shallow and dualistic. God is not a proposition to which we all-knowing humans deign to give or withhold our ascent. As UU’s, we believe that no person who can read or think could believe that God is “all powerful” and “oversees” people’s lives, unless he thought that God was wicked or cruel. But the Universalist side of our tradition holds just the opposite. That it was included reflects how superficial and boilerplate this survey is.

Richardson Lecture on Thoreau on Autumn

On Tuesday, October 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Sanctuary, First Parish will host a lecture by acclaimed scholar Robert D. Richardson on Thoreau’s October, or Autumnal Tints .

The Lay Ministry, a Personal Touch of Pastoral Care

The ministers are assisted by the Pastoral Care lay ministers, who are here for you in times of need, sickness or distress. We work closely with both Jenny Rankin and Elaine Peresluha, and under their direction making home and hospital visits, writing notes and acknowledging the anniversaries of loss. Our ministry group is selected by the ministers and receives significant training, meeting every six weeks for supervision, reflection and support.

Each month, one of the Lay Ministers is on call and you are welcome to call or write to her. Contact information is listed in both the Meeting House News and the Sunday News. As our benediction says, our mission is "to strengthen the fainthearted" in times of need. One of the important strengths of First Parish is being there for each other. Look for our green name tags or contact us anytime. — Diane Clapp, Team Leader for the Pastoral Care Lay Ministers

Caring Connection Thanks

Sincere thanks to Kathleen Elcox for the beautiful new photographs for the "thinking of you" cards. She teams

Caring Connection Cooking Coming!

Look for announcements of our October Caring Connection cooking morning in the Sunday News. Many hands are needed. It's fun and a great way to help out. Contact Tracey Hurd thurd@aol.com if you are not already on the e-mail list of possible caring connection kitchen helpers, but would like to be. And THANKS for caring.

Shawl Ministries Monthly Gathering

Come join with others to create shawls (knitted, crocheted, etc) that are given to parishioners who are experiencing moments of difficulty or loss. The shawls are collaboratively created and stored until they are given to those in need of care by the ministers or lay ministers. The open shawl ministries group meets on the first Wednesday of each month on the sunporch of the Wright Tavern. The next meeting is Wednesday, October 3, 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. All are welcome. STANDING COMMITTEE

We, the Standing Committee, would like to take this opportunity to communicate our appreciation for your patience and deep regret for any inconvenience caused by our abrupt cancellation of the September listening sessions. We learned of Rev. Jenny Rankin's decision to resign her position as Minister on the afternoon of the first scheduled session. We felt it was important to postpone these sessions so that Jenny could inform the congregation as she felt best, and so that we could have time to integrate this new information into our presentations. We also wanted to allow for the emphasis of these days to be on our Transylvania Partner Congregation visitors.

We will offer our first listening session on Sunday September 30, at 7:00 p.m., beginning in the Sanctuary, and will offer additional listening sessions at the dates and times listed below. We will present the Standing Committee's new strategic ends as well as Rev. Elaine Peresluha's response to the Standing Committee's Organizational Structure Review charge. That charge requested her recommendations of how best to move forward, based on our mission and our budget. The Standing Committee endorsed her recommendations on Monday, September 17. Now we want you to have the opportunity to hear these important initiatives, and understand the process of moving from mission, to strategic ends, to recommendations. We will appreciate your feedback and discussion when we break into smaller groups after the presentation. Members of the Parish Interim Team (PIT) will help to facilitate. ♦

Schedule of Listening Sessions:

- Sunday, September 30, at 7:00 p.m.
- Tuesday, October 2, at 3:00 p.m.
- Tuesday, October 2, at 7:00 p.m.
- Thursday, October 11, at 7:00 p.m.
- Saturday, October 13, at 3:00 p.m.
- Sunday, October 14, at 12:30 p.m.

MINISTERIAL SEARCH COMMITTEE

October is another busy month for the Ministerial Search Committee. We will finalize and publish materials to prospective ministers, create a list of interview questions, and assemble an introductory video.

On Sunday, October 21, from 1 to 4 p.m., we hope to see you all at our Beyond Categorical Thinking Workshop. Child care will be provided. The head of the UUA's Transitions Office, Rev. Keith Kron, will facilitate. He will also preach that morning. This workshop is a required and essential part of our search process and something ministerial candidates look at closely. We need substantial participation to make our church look its best! The BCT workshop gives us a valuable opportunity to explore new ways of making First Parish even more welcoming, while enhancing our own sense of belonging. It will also be fun!

Terms you may hear:

Congregational Record: An online form, available only to ministers and UUA staff, which describes who we are and what we are looking for in our next Senior Minister. This is the first information interested candidates see. If they are interested in applying, they then ask the Search Committee to exchange packets.

Ministerial Record: An online form, available only to churches in search and the UUA staff, completed by ministers in search that describes who they are and what they are looking for in their next position. The Search Committee will review these records and, if interested in a candidate, ask to exchange packets.

Packet: Supplemental, more detailed information about the church or candidate that is exchanged after an initial indication of mutual interest. Ours will take the form of a password-protected website where candidates will access documents, photos and a video.

Please remember that for our committee to do our best job, we need to know what you're thinking. Please contact any of us at any time. If you don't know who we are, we have photos, e-mail addresses, and phone numbers posted on our bulletin board outside the main church office and on our Web page:

www.firstparish.org/cms/about-first-parish/transition/ministerial-search-committee. This link is also the best place to get the latest information about what we're doing. If you'd like to share your ideas on our Online Search Forum, just e-mail Toby Smith Ropeik at tsr@tobyasmith.com. ♦

MUSINGS

The weekend of October 12-14, we will be welcoming the Choir of Jefferson Unitarian Church in Golden, Colorado, to First Parish. With their director, my colleague and dear friend Dr. Keith Arnold, 26 singers will visit Boston, Lexington and Concord on a Unitarian history and heritage tour — and sing a concert here at First Parish!

Thanks in advance to those parishioners who have offered home hospitality to some of the Colorado singers, and to the choir members who are helping to organize the events of the weekend. On Saturday night,

October 13, at 7:30 p.m., the Jefferson Unitarian and First Parish choirs will be joined by singers from other Unitarian choirs in the Boston area for a festive evening concert that is open to all. We'll have a chance to share our music with one another and to sing familiar pieces together, joining our voices to "make a noise greater than ourselves," as the poet Kathleen Norris so wonderfully puts it.

And then on Sunday morning, October 14, at both services, the Jefferson Unitarian and First Parish choirs will combine again to sing selections from the Missa Gaia, a favorite piece that both choirs have had the joy of performing in the last few years. This deeply reverent, sometimes whimsical modern mass (after all, it features real animal songs!) celebrates Gaia — the earth, and supports the environmental theme that will be the focus of our worship. We will be accompanied by Grace Choi, our Wednesday night choir rehearsal pianist, who, coincidentally, played for the Jefferson Unitarian Choir when she lived in Colorado and served as interim choir director at First Parish in Lexington. So many connections and reunions!

In addition to sharing music, we look forward to sharing the unique history of our town and Meeting House. One of the unexpected gifts of offering hospitality is the new perspective guests give us on our everyday lives. Sometimes I take our deep connection to American and Unitarian Universalist history for granted. It will be a pleasure to see Concord through the eyes of these visitors from Colorado.

So get ready for more company! And please plan to join us for the concert on Saturday night, October 13 — and then at worship on Sunday morning, October 14. With luck, the New England foliage will be at peak. A wonderful weekend to celebrate our UU heritage and Gaia — our mother earth. ♦

Blessings,

— Beth Norton

CONGREGATIONAL LIFE

It is an honor to join the staff at First Parish in Concord!

I have begun my time with you by listening. I have begun to meet with lay leaders, members and friends to begin to learn about the organizational structures related to membership, communications and the sense of belonging. I am impressed with the soul searching work that First Parish has been doing during this interim period. The congregation is growing and stretching and learning new ways to be together. I admire the hard work you are doing as a religious community and as individuals. I understand that the transition of my role from Membership Director into Director of Congregational Life is part of this process.

I am inspired by Paula Cole Jones, one of the anti-racism, antioppression, multiculturalism consultants who work with the Unitarian Universalist Association. When addressing the Unitarian Universalist decision to become an antiracist organization, she proposes that we must move the Beloved Community to the center of our attention. Beloved Community becomes the goal for all the individuals involved. What is life affirming for the Beloved Community takes precedence over what I want. I believe this is true when we consider belonging and membership. I look forward to getting to know you individually and communally as the weeks go by! Please feel free to stop by the Quad to introduce yourself. ♦

In faith,

— Rachel Baker

Last Sunday night, our teens went on a Trust Walk with one another. The Trust Walk is a yearly ritual led by our high school seniors. The seniors have really stepped up into a leadership role in our youth group, and they were tight as they led this walk in the dark through the back roads of Concord. What is a trust walk? It is this: each kid wears a blindfold and then puts her hands on the shoulders of the blindfolded person in front of her. The line of blindfolded kids is led by one, sighted, senior youth. Thirty-five youth walk this way for over an hour. They are also shuffled from line to line, so they don't know whose shoulder they are relying upon. There are noises, dogs barking, branches, sandy sidewalks and giant steps to avoid the unknown. Afterwards, we all sit in the darkness and talk about what it felt like. There is laughter and friendship. For this moment, the texting stops. For this moment, the real connection is the friend sitting right next to you in the darkness, and we remember what it means to feel human. ♦

Second–Fifth Grade Workshop Rotation Our Judeo-Christian Teachings

This term has focused on the Hebrew Scriptures and some of the fundamental stories of the Bible. We started with Adam and Eve on the first week and had a lively discussion about temptation. We will explore Noah's Ark and the Tower of Babel. In October, we will learn about the brothers Jacob and Esau, Jacob's Ladder and the stories of Jacob. We will build towers, and Welcome Gates and make a pen pal face quilt together.

On All Souls Sunday, we will remember our losses, which have become an important ritual in our Sunday morning gathering on October 28. Photos and small objects of remembrance are always welcome for this important Sunday.

Our mission statement calls us all to deepen spiritually and build community. Middle RE does just that every Sunday through worship, projects and making friendships.

Sixth/Seventh Grade Neighboring Activists

Our 6th and 7th graders will continue to get dirty this month working on organizing for the CROP WALK on October 14. They will also help garden at Gaining Ground in Concord on October 21, and carry sand for the winter to our Senior Citizens in Concord on November 4. Our leaders, Stuart Johnstone, Marcia Spivey, Lindsay Kafka and Roberto Rodriguez are doing a great job of organizing each of these mini-mission trips for our younger teens. We have a lot of 6th and 7th graders attending this class. Keeping this age involved in the life of our congregation is important if we want to keep our denomination strong in future years. We hope that programs like this physically instill our values in our teens, so these values become part of who they will become as Unitarian Universalist adults. This program is great practice for that last directive in our First Parish Mission Statement: make a positive difference in the world!

Eighth Grade Dramatic Arts

We have gotten off to a great start with the play this year, thanks to Alyssa Bigay, Caroline McCloy, Jimmy McCloy and Madzie Burnham. The play brings our 8th graders together by asking them to perform this traditional seasonal play for our First Parish Sunday School program. By the end, these kids will know and trust one another. They will have served our parish by giving a performance to our entire RE program and will have served as role models for our younger kids. These are important steps toward becoming responsible young adults in our congregational community.

This program supports our mission by both building community and making a positive difference in the world.

Ninth Grade Coming of Age

On October 5, our 9th graders will go on retreat with their mentors to Camp Takodah. They will be challenged physically and mentally. They will begin their masks and share stories. They will become a group. On October 14, we are so fortunate that Tom Bird will lead an interactive discussion about our values and how they affect our decisions. This is a great group of mentors and kids. We are fortunate that so many adults in our congregation step up to listen to our youth and take the time to build meaningful and lasting relationships with our teens. We are also fortunate that so many of our youth remain engaged in our First Parish community. A congregation needs youth energy to remain connected to the inner stirrings of the world. Youth are wise in an unfiltered way, and it is exciting to be with them on this journey.

October 28 is one of the most important Sundays of COA — Climbing the Family Tree. On this Sunday, our COA parents write a letter to their young adult. This letter becomes part of that teen’s life’s story. This is a very special session where parents express how they see their teen, and the importance of their teen in their family tree.

Our Coming of Age supports our mission by deepening spiritually, building community and making a positive difference in the world.

Youth Group: Ninth–Twelfth Grades Meets Sunday Evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 in the Wright Tavern

Our seniors are really making a difference in youth group this year. Julia Reynolds, Robbie Ringwall, Acadia Moyersoms, Cam Villain, Nico Calabria and Tommy Wilson have worked closely with Avi Salloway, our amazing Youth Director, to make sure our youth group is youth-led. Our Sunday night youth group is all about fun. Youth can express their Unitarian Universalist spirit in many ways here at First Parish — Transylvania, El Salvador, Gospel Choir, Teen Assistants in RE and YAC (Youth Advisory Council), but Youth Group on Sunday Nights brings all of our youth together in the spirit of friendship and kicking back. It is just a joy to be a part of this energy.

We also have excellent adult presence this year assisting Avi in leading on Sunday nights: David Ropeik, Mark Howell, Cynthia Mousseau and Jim Reynolds. Believe me, these adults are with our teens because it is fun for them too. We have amazing youth; and when they show up together, they can’t help but have a great time.

Our First Parish Community Garden

We are about to do the work of putting our garden to sleep for the winter, but not before it gives even more. Its flowers were used to decorate the Sanctuary, and we continue to use its produce and seeds and dried herbs in our RE program. Its generous tomatoes went into Caring Connection meals, thanks to Tracey Hurd.

The garden brings us in touch with the changing seasons and our own need to experience some dormancy as the colder weather approaches. We are grateful for all of the hands, and especially the 6th and 7th grade ones that have kept this ministry growing (so to speak).

RE “Little Ones”

Our Teen Assistants are in force and growing. We have Edye Benedict, Lily Wallace and Lilly Jimenez so far. We really appreciate their service and willingness to give back to our parish in this important way. A special thanks to Kim and Jeff Brainerd, too, who are there to welcome new families and be of any assistance to our teachers on Sunday mornings. In this congregation, we help each other. We help each other learn and grow and become attached to this deeply spiritual place where love grows. Our children see us; and when they see adults and teens and kids all helping each other, they learn to trust and count on one another. Religious Education is different from education. In religious education, we tend to souls as well as minds.

During my first week at First Parish, I have been frequently reminded of one fact: the heart of the Social Action Community at First Parish in Concord beats loud and strong! In my rounds at coffee hour, I have enjoyed hearing about many of your involvements in the Social Action Community's programs. I am steadily putting together the pieces of the Social Action Community and First Parish puzzles and starting to remember names!

The name Social Action Community makes me smile every time I write, say, or type it. Many outside of First Parish in Concord might guess that the C in SAC stands for "council" or "committee." First Parish in Concord breaks these assumptions. We have a Social Action Community, a community where persons of all ages do service; a community that is open, affirming and inclusive, just like our faith. You had built a tradition of Social Action Community before I came, and I look forward to continuing in this tradition and contributing to this Social Action Community's journey.

I hope to continue meeting new people and am eager to learn about the variety of ways that First Parish in Concord serves the local, national and international community. I am here to serve you so that we can all serve together. ♦

It is a blessing to be here.

Concord CROP WALK for the Hungry, October 14

The Concord CROP WALK will take place after the SAC Sunday service, "Bounty of the Earth." Registration at 1:30 p.m., step-off at 2:15 p.m. from First Parish. Funds raised go to several local area food pantries and suppers, and to the Church World Service, to use for disaster relief and development projects around the globe. Elaine Peresluha and Jenny Rankin will be walking and invite others to join them; this is a great event for the whole family. Congregants may pick up sponsor forms or make a donation to sponsor our ministers at coffee hour. Online pledging is available; see www.concordcrop.org to find out how to join the First Parish team, or sponsor the team members. Contact Sara Ballard at sara@sb.org for more information.

Grant Applications Due October 15

Each year, First Parish allocates 7.5 percent of annual pledge income to Social Action Grants. Twice a year, in the fall and spring, the Social Action Grants Committee distributes this grant money to local, national, and international organizations. The committee actively encourages social entrepreneurship and gives extra weight to Grant Requests that provide seed money for a specified and limited time period to "incubate" new ideas. Grant award priority is given to these new concepts and ventures. Please keep in mind that grant applications must be sponsored by a First Parish pledging member. Further details on the grant application process, policies and requirements can be found at <http://sac.firstparish.org/cms/grants> or by contacting Wendy Holt at wendyholt48@yahoo.com.

Concord-Area Amnesty Group, October 16, 7:00 p.m.

Group 15, the Concord-area chapter of Amnesty International, will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Greeley Room. Refreshments will be served, and newcomers are cordially invited to attend. For more information, visit www.aigroup15.org, or e-mail Lorraine Loviglio at Loviglio@rcn.com.

Mil Milagros Celebration/Fundraiser, October 3 6:00 p.m. in Boston

The Social Action Community's Guatemala Recovery Project regularly works with Mil Milagros, a children's policy and advocacy organization that supports the health and education of Mayan children. Mil Milagros now reaches 1000 children, empowering families and schools to improve health care, education and nutrition. The need is great — Mayan children have worse nutrition than any place in the West — including Haiti. Less than 15 percent of Mayan children finish 6th grade. Mil Milagros has already made impressive improvements in the lives of Mayan children. To attend, call Steve Cadwell at 617-320-2512. To donate, go to <http://milmilagros.org/donate-now>.

Reproductive Justice: An Open Working Group

Last month a group gathered to hear a report by Margaret Stewart about the UUA action endorsing Reproductive Justice. The group, including lay leaders from Religious Education/OWL, Social Action, the Women's Circle, and Pastoral Care pondered these questions: Is reproductive justice a part of First Parish now? What are some visions for affirming and supporting reproductive justice in our congregation and beyond? The group generated many possibilities for next steps. Another meeting is being planned — watch the Sunday News for details. All are welcome! If you have ideas or want to connect, contact Lora Venesy at venesy@comcast.net.

GREEN NOTES

Mindful Living Tip: To save water, keep a pitcher of water in the fridge so you don't have to run the tap until water is cool.

Mindful Living Statistic: A leaky toilet can waste 200 gallons a day. To test your toilet, put a few drops of food coloring in the tank. If the color appears in the toilet bowl after a few minutes, you have a leak.

Calling All First Parish Artists

If you have a painting, pastel, drawing or print work you would like to display in an "All-Parish Art Display," please contact Doug Baker at the Meeting House. The exhibit will be mounted during the week of November 12, and will remain up until the week of December 10. The exhibit will be in both Gallery A (outside the Sanctuary in the stairwell) and Gallery B (on the Parish Hall stage). All displays at the Meeting House are noncompetitive and noncommercial. Depending upon the size of your artwork and the number of people who submit, we may be able to mount more than one of everyone's work. Doug Baker, Sacristan and Curator, can be reached at 978-369-9602, ext. 419, or at dbaker@firstparish.org.

We will be continuing work on our group project as a present for our Transylvania Partner Congregation. Our RE children are making a pen pal quilt of a patchwork of their faces. This quilt will serve as a carrier for pen pal letters between our children and those of our partner congregation. This project is an extension of our work in our Sunday RE class. Questions? Please ask Susan Nash at 781-697-0008. All ages are welcome!

The October WPA Luncheon Program: "Who Will Win the 2012 Presidential Election?"

Nine states ("toss-ups") are likely to determine the outcome of the race between President Obama and Mitt Romney. At the October 23 luncheon organized by the Women's Parish Association, Rick Frese of First Parish will give a presentation, looking at recent past election trends, examining polls in battleground states and mapping political geography. During the presentation, audience members will engage in an interactive exercise (electoral game) predicting the outcome of the election. Rick is a professor of Government and Sociology at Bentley University. He has taught courses in American and international politics, developed courses in sociology and enjoyed administrative positions during his 30 years at the university; and has moderated congressional, senatorial, gubernatorial and state legislative debates in both political parties. Join old and new friends at this luncheon and very timely program. Date: Tuesday, October 23. Time: Social time at 11:30 a.m. Lunch at noon followed by the presentation at 12:45 p.m. Reservations are required. Presented by First Parish Music Events Committee, tickets are $20 at the First Parish Office, at upcoming coffee hours, and at the door. For more information about Klezmir, visit www.klezmir.com.

PARTNER CONGREGATION COMMITTEE

Our Guests from Székelykeresztúr

Once again our dear guests have come and gone. Together we sang and ate and toured and laughed. We extended our connections and deepened our friendships while strengthening the foundations for future visits between our two communities.

With tours of Concord and Boston and Plimouth Plantation, the special delegation from our partner congregation in Székelykeresztúr got to experience our New England home. And with a Youth Retreat at Ferry Beach, a Barn Dance, Potluck Supper and two Sunday Services (including a special one for Transylvanian Thanksgiving), they got to experience our First Parish home as well.

But none of these events, nor our numerous other activities, would have been possible without the efforts of far too many people to mention individually. We are immensely grateful to our planners and coordinators, to the kind host

- families and munificent donors who underwrote all major
- expenses (including travel), to our ministers and staff, to
- those who provided essential support for our many out-
- ings. Thank you to everyone who extended hands, hearts
- and homes to give our visitors a warm and loving experi-
- ence.

- For pictures and memories, be sure to visit our PCC site at <http://bit.ly/xZwDwA>.

- For those who are interested in sponsoring a Keresztúr stu-
- dent, there are still a few student sponsorships available.
- Please contact our Student Sponsorship program coordina-
- tor, Dana Booth, at dana.a.booth@gmail.com or by phone
- at 978-369-5702. We are grateful for your support.

- As always we invite you to join us at our next Partner
- Congregation Committee supper meeting, For further
- information, drop us a line. ♦

SUNDAY FORUM

10:30 - Noon in the Chapel
First Parish Church, Concord, Massachusetts

October 7th:

"Building Local Food Community"

Debbie Barr, Brooke Redmond and Emily Wheeler, will describe how 30 Concord citizens, Town officials, and local experts came together in 2011 to discuss ways to promote a sustainable food system in Concord. A professionally designed assessment of the existing system was then carried out. The assessment report includes a road map for a more sustainable future for food and agriculture in our community. In the forum, we will talk about what you and First Parish can do together to build a healthy, humane food system.

October 14th:

"The Rafael Hernandez School"

First Parish's involvement in the growth of Friends of the Hernandez School began over a decade ago when a group from First Parish came to the school to help improve the building and grounds. From a 25-student after school program to a comprehensive set of activities, the Friends of the Rafael Hernandez School has grown dramatically. With the recent passing of its two founding leaders, Margarita Muniz and Ken Larson, the organization is now engaged in setting new goals. The Forum presents the opportunity for First Parish to respond to and help shape the dramatic changes proposed for the school.

October 21st:

"Humans and Uncertainty"

Human beings do not like uncertainty. Dr. Henry S. Lodge believes human beings are hard wired, neurologically, to escape the discomfort or anxiety of uncertainty. "...We choose the fastest route to a decision - any decision - to end the panic of uncertainty... over and over again humans will reliably make blatantly bad decisions to end the feeling of uncertainty." Ministers are called, often, to provide an answer, i.e.: relief from discomfort. Ministers are rewarded, and appreciated, based directly on their ability to ameliorate congregational uncertainty. In today's forum, Elaine engages us in the opportunity, and the discomfort of uncertainty.

October 28th

"Alternatives to Violence"

Carolyn Shohet and Mark Richards: In 1975 prisoners at Greenhaven Correctional Center in New York asked local Quakers for help in designing a workshop for local youth visiting the prison. The result was the Alternatives to Violence Project (AVP), an experience designed to help participants explore their own relationships to violence, to build community from a violent environment, to communicate effectively, and to resolve conflict without violence. Today AVP is offered nationally in over 100 prisons and globally in dozens of communities seeking to reconcile violent pasts. This Forum will offer a taste of the work that Carolyn and Mark do behind the walls of Massachusetts prisons.

Concord Area Humanists

Herb Silverman, "Candidate Without a Prayer"
Wednesday, October 10, 2012. 7:00 PM. In Parish Hall

The meeting will start at 7:00 with socializing and a few announcements. The program will start at 7:15, after which we will have open discussion with the presenter followed by more socializing. At 9:00 we usually have an open steering committee meeting which anyone is invited to attend.

Herb Silverman is founder and president of the Secular Coalition for America. He will be speaking to us about his new book Candidate Without a Prayer.

Silverman is a national public spokesperson for the rights of nonbelievers as president of the Secular Coalition for America and a board member of the American Humanist Association. Candidate Without a Prayer details his upbringing (raised by Orthodox Jews as a “liberal, Yankee, Jew atheist with four strikes against me”), studying to become a professor in mathematics (“Part of the beauty of mathematics is seeing the strange and mysterious places that apparently simple and innocuous assumptions may lead”), and his run for the governorship of South Carolina to challenge the state constitution that stated “No person shall be eligible for the office of governor who denies the existence of the Supreme Being.”

While his bid for governor failed, Silverman continued to challenge the law by applying to be a notary public—a legal battle that lasted six years and led to his notoriety growing from Charleston’s “most famous atheist” to South Carolina’s “most famous atheist.” His exposure included a televised gubernatorial debate with two other candidates. “A year later there was one objective measure for determining the winner,” Silverman notes about his performance. “Of the three candidates in the debate, I was the only one not in prison.”

Silverman says his book is for “apathetic atheists, who I hope will become motivated to get off their apathy,” adding that he also “offers constructive approaches for dealing with family conflicts over religious differences. In other words, I guess this book is for just about everyone.”

OCTOBER

Or Autumnal Tints

By Henry David Thoreau

Introduction by Robert D. Richardson
Illustrations by Lincoln Perry

Originally delivered as a lecture shortly before the writer's own death, Henry David Thoreau's classic "Autumnal Tints" is an ode to autumn not as the season of death and decay, but of ripeness, fullness, and maturity. It is perhaps the best piece ever written on the subject of the fall color of the changing leaves. Thoreau hoped one day to turn it into an illustrated book called "October, or Autumnal Tints."

Thoreau's astute meditations are framed by a biographical essay by acclaimed scholar Robert D. Richardson that delves into the events and relationships influencing Thoreau's philosophy. Sensuous watercolors by Lincoln Perry bring to life the fall colors described so ecstatically by Thoreau, allowing longtime Thoreau fans and leaf-peepers alike to feel as though they are walking among the falling leaves alongside one of our best observers of the natural world.
